macOS

1. Installation

Download the macOS software installer from the Engl Amps homepage and open the downloaded .dmg file in your download folder.

Drag and drop the ENGL Fireball-IR icon into the applications folder as shown in the window below.

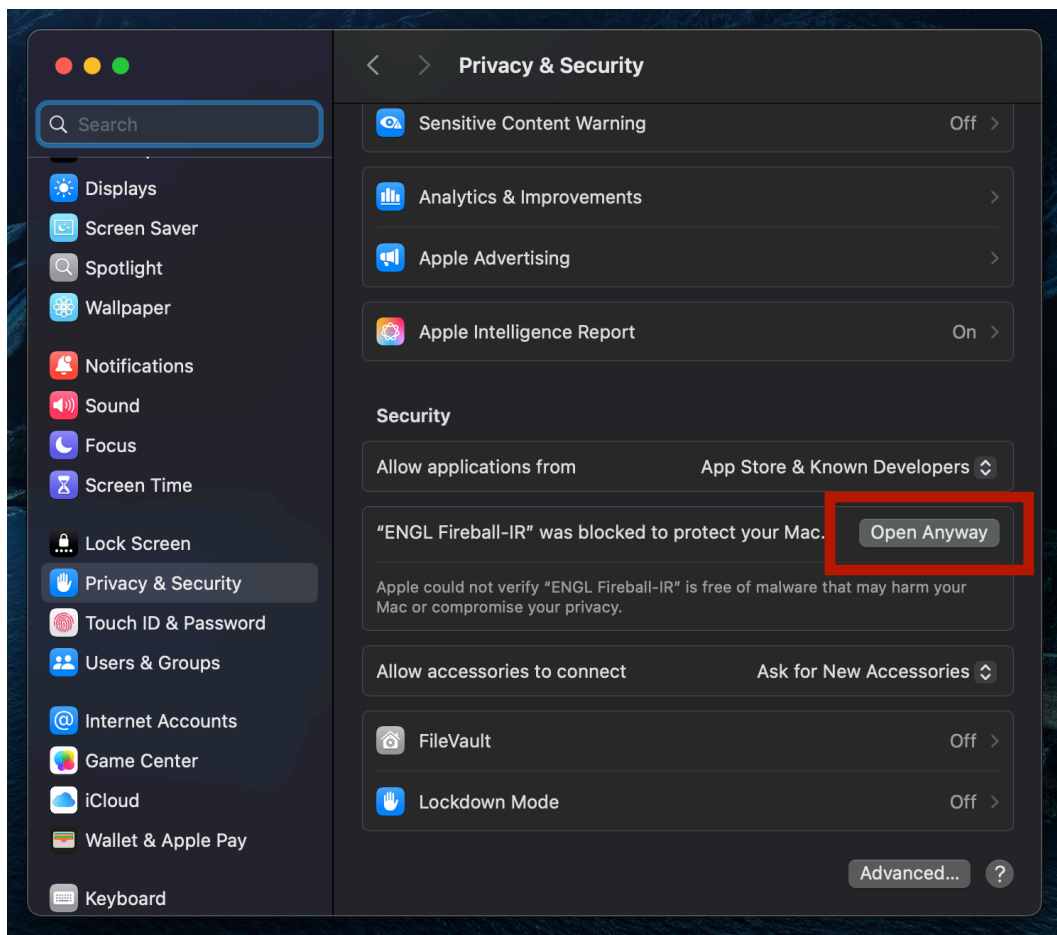

The installation is finished after the file is copied in the applications folder which should not take longer than a few seconds.

2. First launch

Before you launch the Fireball-IR software always make sure that your Fireball-IR pedal is attached to your computer with an USB cable.

Upon launching the application the first time you might receive an error message stating that the application can't be opened because Apple could not verify it.

If you see this message, click on the “Done” button and open the macOS System Preferences. Navigate to the Privacy & Security pane. Scroll down and click on the “Open Anyway” button next to the passage mentioning the ENGL Fireball-IR application. The application should open now and macOS will refrain from blocking it in the future.

3. Uninstall

If you ever want to uninstall the ENGL Fireball-IR software simply navigate to your applications folder and drag the corresponding icon into the trash.
